Our eKYC solution allows the digital onboarding of customers through high accuracy matching of selfies to ID photos, accurate extraction of details from an ID, and two modes of "liveness" checks - active liveness prompts users to take actions to prove they are not spoofing the system, while passive liveness uses an AI model to predict whether a live user is present.

Selfie-ID Matching                                                                                          ⌄

Face Retrieval ⌃

A banking customer wanted to uncover the extent of duplicate and fraudulent customer applications it had. Using customer facial data, Trusting Social cleaned up the bank database by matching customers who had multiple identities or application numbers. Trusting Social found that 1% of customers had applied under multiple identities, and discovered an internal fraud ring among the bank agents. Using the cleaned facial database, Trusting Social helped the bank to create a fraud database that new customers could be audited against.
